Walking Tour Stops
1. Tepper Building
2. Purnell Center for the Arts
3. Gates Center for Computer Science and Hillman Center for Future-Generation Technologies
4. Doherty Hall
5. Wean Hall
6. Scott Hall
7. Hamerschlag Hall
8. Sorrells Engineering and Science Library
9. Scaife Hall
10. Baker/Porter Halls
11. Hunt Library
12. College of Fine Arts
13. Margaret Morrison Carnegie Hall
14. Jared L. Cohen University Center

Points of Interest
1. Warner Hall (Office of Admission)
2. Hamburg Hall
3. Robert Mehrabian Collaborative Innovation Center
4. Newell-Simon Hall
5. Roberts Engineering Hall
6. Posner Center
7. Skibo Gymnasium
8. The Center for Student Diversity and Inclusion

Common First-Year Residences
1. Donner House
2. The Hill: Boss House
3. Hamerschlag House
4. Henderson House
5. McGill House
6. Scobell House
7. Morewood E-Tower
8. Stever House
9. Mudge House
10. Greek Quad
11. Residence on Fifth

Popular Dining Locations
1. Entropy+
2. Rooted
3. El Gallo de Oro
4. Au Bon Pain at Skibo Café
5. Rohr Commons
6. iNoodle
7. La Prima
8. The Underground
Welcome to Carnegie Mellon

Walking Tour Stops

1. Tepper Building, a new 315,000 square foot state-of-the-art building, is home to the Tepper School of Business, the Coulter Welcome Center, a 600-seat flat floor auditorium, fitness center, a dining location and the Swartz Center for Entrepreneurship.

2. Purnell Center for the Arts is home to our Drama School, the Regina Gouger Miller Gallery. Watch the Paucho Bridge light show at night or walk across to the Gates Center.

3. Gates Center for Computer Science and Hillman Center for Future-Generation Technologies are home to the School of Computer Science and research centers like the Ray and Stephanie Lane Center for Computational Biology. These Gold Ray and Stephanie Lane Center for Regina Gouger Miller Gallery. Watch performance and education facilities like the Philip Chosky Theater and the Henry L. Miller foundations.

4. Doherty Hall contains some of the largest lecture style classrooms and newly renovated lab spaces for our Mellon College of Science students, in addition to lab and studio spaces for departments like engineering, chemistry, biology and art.

5. Wean Hall is home to some of the Mellon College of Science and College of Engineering departments, in addition to the William’s Center for Cosmology and the Institute for Software Research.

6. Scott Hall was opened in 2016 and is home to Biomedical Engineering, nanotechnology research facilities and the Wilton E. Scott Institute for Energy Innovation.

7. Hamerschlag Hall is home to Electrical & Computer Engineering and Mechanical Engineering labs. Hamerschlag’s rotunda is probably the most iconic image on campus. This building also boasts a living roof.

8. Sorrells Engineering and Science Library was recently renovated to focus on the 21st century needs of student learning in new and innovative ways.

9. Scaife Hall contains the College of Engineering Dean’s Office and the Department of Mechanical Engineering. The university’s astronomy club made a home on its 16-inch solar-shielded rooftop with an observatory and a 10” Newtonian telescope.

10. Baker/Porter Halls are the oldest buildings on campus and connect via a long, sloped hallway. Porter houses programs like civil and environmental engineering, information systems and social and decision sciences. Baker is home to the Dietrich College of Humanities and Social Sciences.

11. Hunt Library opened in 1961 as the university’s first dedicated library building and was a gift from Roy and Rachel Hunt. It’s the largest of five libraries on campus with more than 600,000 volumes and houses facilities for the Integrative Design, Arts and Technology (iDATe) program. Watch the evening light show that was installed to mark the library’s 50th anniversary and accentuates the aluminum and glass structure.

12. College of Fine Arts is an architectural creation of Henry Hornbostel, the college’s first dean, and is home to its five schools: architecture, art, design, drama and music.

14. Jared L. Cohon University Center is our student union. Here you can take advantage of our recently expanded student fitness facilities, catch a show at the black-box theater, visit the chapel or University Store, or get lunch in one of many eateries.

To view a complete list of campus buildings, eateries and more, visit admission.enrollment.cmu.edu/map

Points of Interest

1. Warner Hall is home to Undergraduate Admission. Offices are located on the second floor.

2. Hamburg Hall houses the Heinz College of Information Systems and Public Policy.

3. Robert Mehrabian Collaborative Innovation Center is a dry-lab research facility for technology companies and the university to collaboratively create innovative new concepts and products.

4. Newell-Simon Hall is named after Allen Newell and Herbert A. Simon — founders of artificial intelligence — and houses the Human-Computer Interaction Institute and the Robotics Institute.

5. Roberts Engineering Hall houses research facilities for Materials Science and Engineering.

6. Posner Center is a LEED certified building and a gift of Henry Posner Jr. and Helen Posner. It contains a collection of rare and fine books, including one of only four copies of the first printing of the Bill of Rights. Visit the Kraus Campus rooftop sculpture garden made possible by alumna Jill Kraus, designed by alumus Mel Bochner and landscape architect Michael Van Valkenburgh.

7. Skibo Gymnasium hosts varsity basketball and volleyball games and is home to Carnegie Mellon’s Athletic Department. The university competes in theNUA, an NCAA Division III conference, and offers varsity, intramural and club sports.

8. Center for Student Diversity and Inclusion offers resources to enhance an inclusive and transformative student experience focused on access, success, campus climate and intergroup dialogue.

Popular Dining Locations

Here’s a snapshot of the more than 40 diverse dining options available on campus.

1. Entropy is Carnegie Mellon’s on-campus convenience store, offering a large variety of grocery items, fresh-made sandwiches and salads, as well as allergen-friendly and orthodox kosher-to-go options.

2. Rooted is focused on real, wholesome foods made with completely plant-based ingredients, offering street food favorites like Pad Thai and comfort foods like “meat” loaf with creamy mashed potatoes.

3. El Gallo de Oro offers authentic Mexican cuisine — burritos and burrito bowls, tacos, quesadillas and salads — made with fresh ingredients and features spices like cumin and chipotle.

4. Au Bon Pain at Skibo Café offers 10 soups daily, made-to-order sandwiches and salads, as well as to-go wraps, salads, yogurt parfaits and pastries. Also enjoy delicious hot or iced coffee, tea and espresso drinks.

5. Rohr Commons features AVI Pure and Tazza D’Oro. Pure serves food free of artificial colors, flavors and sweeteners, and antibiotics and growth hormones. Tazza D’Oro serves sustainably sourced coffee and espresso, and paninis and desserts sourced from local vendors.

6. iNoodle serves authentic Asian cuisine in an open kitchen environment. The menu features made-to-order poke bowls, salads, ramen, pho, dumplings, bahn mi and bubble tea.

7. La Primera, the only certified organic roaster in Pittsburgh, offers Italian-style coffee and espresso, cold brew, nitro coffee on tap, as well as sandwiches, pastries and vegetarian options.

8. The Underground, a campus-favorite hangout, offers all-day breakfast, burgers and sandwiches, entree salads, soups, the Underground’s famous chicken strips and crispy fries, and dessert!

Common First-Year Residences

All first-year undergrads live in residence halls. Listed on this map are typical first-year halls and the Greek Quad. Carnegie Mellon is proud to have the first green residence hall in the U.S., Stever House.

1. Donner House

2. The Hill:
   1. Boss House
   2. Hamerschlag House
   3. Henderson House
   4. McGill House
   5. Scobell House

3. Morewood E-Tower

4. Stever House

5. Mudge House

6. Greek Quad

7. Residence on Fifth

Please note: Some buildings and eateries may not be open during your visit.