Carnegie Mellon Alcohol and Drug Policy

Policy Statement

Carnegie Mellon University is committed to maintaining a safe and healthy community that supports the academic mission of the institution. In keeping with this commitment, the university permits the use of alcohol or drugs within its community only in a manner that is legal, responsible and consistent with the expectations outlined in this policy. Further, the university makes available information and resources so that its community members are positioned to assist anyone whose personal well-being may be negatively impacted due to misuse of alcohol or drugs.

This policy applies to all members of the university community, including all faculty, staff and students. This policy also applies to contractors, volunteers and visitors while on university property (whether owned or leased) or while being paid or reimbursed with university funds. This policy focuses on compliance with laws in the United States and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. However, as a global university with operations throughout the world, Carnegie Mellon is equally committed to compliance with all applicable alcohol and drug laws in all jurisdictions in which the university operates.

Policy on Illegal Drugs

The unlawful manufacture, possession, distribution, sale or use of drugs is prohibited at the university. This prohibition applies to the unlawful possession, distribution, sale or use of illegal narcotics, prescription drugs and other illegal drugs. It is a violation of this policy for prescription drugs to be provided to or used by someone other than the person for whom they were prescribed. It is also a violation of this policy for prescription drugs to be used in a manner for which they were not prescribed.

The university complies with all applicable federal, state and local laws. The U.S. federal Drug Free Schools and Communities Act of 1989 requires institutions of higher education that receive federal funds to comply with U.S. federal drug laws. Although some state and local governments have legalized the use of various forms of marijuana, federal law continues to prohibit the manufacture, possession, distribution, sale or use of marijuana. As such, in accordance with U.S. federal law, all forms of marijuana, including prescription medical marijuana, are prohibited on all university property (whether owned or leased) and in connection with all university programs.

Faculty, staff and student-workers are prohibited from being under the influence of any drugs (including prescription drugs) that cause impairment and impact the ability of employees to perform their jobs. University employees with a license to operate specialized vehicles or equipment (e.g., commercial driver's license or pilot's license) must follow all applicable rules prohibiting the use of drugs before and/or while operating the vehicle/equipment.

Policy on Alcohol

The unlawful manufacture, possession, distribution, sale or use of alcohol is prohibited at the university.

All members of the university community are expected to comply with applicable laws regarding the possession, consumption, transportation and distribution of alcohol. Except as set forth below or as otherwise prohibited by applicable departmental-level rules, the lawful consumption of alcoholic beverages on university property (whether owned or leased) and/or in connection with university programs by individuals of legal drinking age (21 years or older in United States) is permitted by the university. In these circumstances, however, the university expects faculty, staff, students, contractors and all other visitors to conduct themselves, both individually and collectively, in a responsible manner and in compliance with this policy.

The consumption of alcohol and/or the possession of open containers of alcohol are prohibited (i) while outdoors on university property, (ii) while inside university facilities in common areas, theaters, galleries, dining facilities or other spaces that are accessible by the public, (iii) while in classrooms, labs, studios or other instructional spaces when a course is in session, and (iv) at all on-campus athletic facilities. However, alcohol may be served and consumed in these locations where permitted under Section IV of this policy concerning Social Host and Alcohol Event Registration.

All university employees, including faculty, staff and student-workers, are expected to observe the highest standards of ethical and professional conduct. Faculty, staff and student-workers who are of legal drinking age who choose to engage in the consumption of alcohol are expected to do so responsibly. Faculty, staff and student-workers are prohibited from working while intoxicated or impaired. Furthermore, faculty, staff and student-workers are prohibited from consuming alcohol in a manner that in any way impairs the performance of job duties, endangers the physical well-being of oneself or others, or could result in the damage of property (in most circumstances, employees are to refrain from consuming alcohol when performing their normal academic, administrative, technical or professional duties). University employees with a license to operate specialized vehicles or equipment (e.g., commercial driver's license or pilot's license, etc.) must follow all applicable rules prohibiting the use of alcohol before and/or while operating the vehicle/equipment.

Sale of Alcohol

In all cases, Carnegie Mellon complies with the law of the applicable jurisdiction regarding the sale of alcohol. Under Pennsylvania law, a liquor license is required to sell alcohol. The university does not possess a liquor license. As such, alcohol may not be directly or indirectly sold in connection with any university program or activity in Pennsylvania unless the alcohol is sold and/or served by a third-party that possesses a valid liquor license and, if necessary, an off-premises catering permit. The indirect sale of alcohol includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- The sale of tickets, entrances fees or required donations to attend an event where alcohol is served; and
- The use of drink tickets in connection with paid admission to an event where alcohol is served.

Social Host and Alcohol Event Registration

A "University Event with Alcohol" is a university event where alcohol will be served either (1) on campus, or (2) off-campus where the alcohol is paid for directly, in whole or in part, with university funds, or where reimbursement, in whole or in part, is made for the purchase of alcohol using university funds. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the following activities are not University Events with Alcohol for purposes of Social Host and registration requirements (however, the other provisions of this Alcohol and Drug Policy still apply):

- i. consumption of alcohol by students of legal drinking age in an on-campus private residence;
- ii. consumption of alcohol in an on-campus private residence that is leased, rented or otherwise occupied by an employee of the university, where no students are expected and/or permitted to attend (excluding students who are relatives of the employee);
- iii. consumption of alcohol in a private office with a door and lock that is occupied by no more than four (4) faculty and/or staff members and where no students are present, and
- iv. any events registered through the process that fraternities and/or sororities are required to use in order to host an event with alcohol.

As detailed in the Social Host & Alcohol Event Registration Procedures, a University Event with Alcohol must be registered with and approved in advance by the Office of the Dean of Students, and at least one Social Host must be designated for the University Event with Alcohol. These procedures set forth the requirements for University Events with Alcohol, the requirements for Social Hosts and the types of events exempt from these requirements.

The Social Host for each University Event with Alcohol is responsible for (1) ensuring that alcohol is served only to individuals who are of legal drinking age, (2) ensuring that individuals who are visibly intoxicated are not served alcohol, and (3) oversight of the event consistent with the Social Host Responsibility Guidelines set forth in the Social Host & Alcohol Event Registration Procedures.

The university will provide a legal defense and/or indemnity to any individual who serves as a Social Host of a University Event with Alcohol, pursuant to the Social Host & Alcohol Event Registration Procedures, and subject to the attached Terms and Conditions for Social Host Defense and Indemnity.

The rights of faculty and Trustees and Officers of the University who serve as Social Hosts are not governed by the Terms and Conditions for Social Host Defense and Indemnity. Rather, faculty defense and indemnity rights continue to be governed by Article VIII of the University By-Laws concerning Professional Protection Regarding Faculty Members. Defense and indemnity rights of Trustees and Officers of the University continue to be governed by Article IX of the University By-Laws concerning Liability and Indemnification of Trustees and Officers.

Sanctions and Medical Amnesty

The university community values the health and safety of its members and supports an environment that encourages students to come to the assistance of one another. As specified in the Active Medical Assistance Protocol students will be granted amnesty from university disciplinary action and University Police action when assistance from emergency services personnel is appropriately sought for individuals in need of immediate medical attention due to alcohol or drug use. In the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, similar amnesty from criminal prosecution is also available to individuals pursuant to 18 Pa.C.S. § 6308.1 and 35 P.S. § 780-113.7.

Campus Resources

The university provides the following resources to individuals seeking assistance relating to the abuse of alcohol or drugs.

- Counseling & Psychological Services — Counseling and Psychological Services (CaPS) is available as a resource to students for initial assessment of drug and alcohol use, and referrals to off campus outpatient and inpatient treatment programs.
- University Health Services — University Health Services (UHS) also provides students with initial assessment of drug and alcohol use and referrals to CaPS or off-campus treatment programs, in addition to substance abuse prevention education, through its Office of Health Promotion. Individual sessions are offered alongside online programs to assist students in assessing their own usage patterns and reducing the risks associated with substance abuse. UHS also facilitates the Collegiate Recovery Community at the university to support and connect students and their allies who are choosing sobriety. Information about appropriate community support groups is available through CaPS and UHS. Some of the support programs available in the Pittsburgh area include: Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous, Al-Anon and the Adult Children of Alcoholics Network of Greater Pittsburgh.
- Employee Assistance Program — Carnegie Mellon has established an Employee Assistance Program (EAP), sponsored and paid for by the university, to facilitate employees' efforts to resolve problems that can affect job performance and general well-being. EAP services include counseling and support relating to substance abuse.

Health Risks Associated with the Use of Alcohol*

Excessive alcohol use has immediate effects that increase the risk of many harmful health conditions. Immediate risks are most often the result of binge drinking and include the following:

- Injuries, such as motor vehicle crashes, falls, drownings and burns
- Violence, including homicide, suicide, sexual assault and intimate partner violence
- Alcohol poisoning, a medical emergency that results from high blood alcohol levels
- Risky sexual behaviors, including unprotected sex or sex with multiple partners; these behaviors can result in unintended pregnancy or sexually transmitted diseases, including HIV
- Miscarriage and stillbirth or fetal alcohol spectrum disorders (FASDs) among pregnant individuals

Over time, excessive alcohol use can lead to the development of chronic diseases and other serious problems including:

- High blood pressure, heart disease, stroke, liver disease and digestive problems
- Cancer of the breast, mouth, throat, esophagus, liver and colon
- Learning and memory problems, including dementia and poor school performance
- Mental health problems, including depression and anxiety
- Social problems, including lost productivity, family problems and unemployment
- Alcohol dependence or alcoholism

By not drinking too much, you can reduce the risk of these short- and long-term health risks.

Health Risks Associated with Other Drugs of Abuse*

Tobacco and Nicotine Products (cigarettes, e-cigarettes, cigars, bidis, hookah, snuff, nicotine pouches and chew): Cigarette smoking harms nearly every organ in the body, and smoking is the leading preventable cause of premature death in the United States. Nonsmokers may be exposed to second or thirdhand smoke (residue left on surfaces from cigarette smoke) and are at increased risk for many physical and behavioral health impacts including lung disease, asthma, hyperactivity, and premature death. Health risks of tobacco use include: addiction, cancer, chronic bronchitis, emphysema, stroke, heart attack and vascular disease. E-cigarette vapor has been found to contain carcinogens and toxic chemicals. Until more studies are conducted, the health consequences of repeated exposure to these chemicals are unknown.

Marijuana: Addiction, learning and memory problems, impaired coordination, increased risk of lung infections, anxiety, paranoia and psychotic episodes

Cocaine: Addiction, anxiety, irritability, paranoia, nosebleeds, loss of smell from snorting, skin infection, risk of contracting Hepatitis C or HIV from needle injection, heart attack, stroke, seizures and death

MDMA (Ecstasy, Molly): Addiction, increased heart rate and blood pressure, depression, anxiety, sleep problems and death

Opioids (including heroin, synthetic opioids such as fentanyl and pain relievers available legally by prescription, such as oxycodone, hydrocodone, codeine, and morphine): Addiction, overdose and death, HIV/AIDS, hepatitis, infection of heart lining and valves, liver or kidney disease and, among pregnant women, low birth weight babies

Prescription and Over-the-Counter Drugs of Abuse:

Opioids (for pain) – Addiction, constipation, depressed breathing and death

Central Nervous System Depressants (for anxiety and sleep disorders) – Addiction, slowed heart rate and depressed breathing

Stimulants (for ADHD and narcolepsy) – Addiction, irregular heartbeat, seizures, heart failure, hostility, paranoia and sleep problems

Dextromethorphan (DXM, active ingredient in cough and cold medicine) – Numbness, nausea and vomiting, increased heart rate and blood pressure, brain damage

Hallucinogens (LSD, Peyote, Psilocybin, PCP, Ayahuasca, and DMT): Hallucinations, flashbacks within a few days or more than a year after use, increased heart rate and blood pressure, nausea and vomiting, panic and psychosis

Synthetic Cannabinoids (Delta-9, K2, Spice): The chemical composition of synthesized cannabinoids is unknown and makes it difficult to understand toxicity and users may experience dramatically different effects than expected. Known risks include: increased heart rate, vomiting, agitation, confusion, and hallucination.

Steroids (Anabolic-Androgenic): Mood and behavior problems, aggression, psychiatric dysfunction, addiction, liver damage, high blood pressure, jaundice, renal failure, severe acne, HIV/AIDS, hepatitis, various gender and age specific hormonal problems

Club Drugs (GHB, Ketamine and Rohypnol): Uncertainties about sources, chemicals and contaminants used to manufacture many club drugs make it difficult to determine toxicity and medical risks. Known health risks include: coma, seizures, nausea, breathing problems, high blood pressure, date rape and death.

Active Medical Assistance Protocol (AMAP)

Inhalants: Hearing loss, limb spasms, brain damage, bone marrow damage, liver or kidney damage, blood oxygen depletion, suffocation, heart failure, death

Methamphetamine: Addiction, emotional and cognitive problems, anxiety, paranoia, hallucinations, violent behaviors, insomnia, increased heart rate and blood pressure, extreme weight loss, dental problems, HIV/AIDS, hepatitis

Kratom: Nausea, itching, sweating, dry mouth, constipation, seizures, hallucinations, dependence or addiction

Synthetic Cathinones ("Bath Salts"): Paranoia, hallucinations, panic attacks, delirium, agitation, violent behaviors

Counseling and Psychological Services (CaPS) and University Health Services (UHS) are available as resources to the student population for initial assessment of drug and alcohol problems, and referrals to off-campus outpatient and inpatient treatment programs.

The university community values the health and safety of its members and supports an environment that encourages students to come to the assistance of one another. To that end, the active medical assistance protocol (AMAP) sets forth an expectation that community members take responsible action when the health or safety of a student is compromised due to overuse or abuse of alcohol or illicit substances and/or as a result of hazing activity.

Amnesty from university disciplinary action and University Police action will be granted to the student(s) for whom medical assistance is summoned and for those seeking assistance from emergency services personnel when all of the following conditions apply:

1. An individual contacted emergency services personnel based on a reasonable belief that another individual was in need of immediate medical attention, which had not otherwise been sought, to prevent death or serious bodily injury;
2. The individual seeking assistance provided their own name to the emergency services personnel; and
3. The individual requesting assistance remained with the individual believed to be in need of medical assistance until emergency services personnel arrived and the need for the concerned individual's presence had ended.

Those seeking assistance will be assured that the university will likewise not pursue further university action against any individual or organization involved in such an incident when appropriate medical attention is sought. Students who are directly involved in attending to the compromised student until help arrives will also be granted amnesty from university action. Students involved in an incident for which amnesty is granted will be provided appropriate educational or developmental interventions.

In cases where help is indicated but not sought, the most severe disciplinary action will be taken against all students involved.

Employee Resources

This protocol extends the university's previously established Alcohol Medical Assistance Protocol (1999) and is consistent with the spirit of several Pennsylvania laws that include safe harbor provisions granting immunity from criminal prosecution for seeking medical assistance.

Employees of the university who have a drug or alcohol problem are eligible to take advantage of the Employee Assistance Program.

As an institution of higher education, Carnegie Mellon, in providing an environment designed to facilitate excellence in teaching and research, recognizes the importance of the university's human resources. The university believes that the job performance of each individual employee determines the quality of the institution as a whole. Furthermore, the university recognizes that job performance may be affected by personal issues that, when addressed in a timely, confidential and professionally supportive manner, can be successfully resolved. Carnegie Mellon, therefore, has established an Employee Assistance Program (EAP), sponsored and paid for by the university, designed to facilitate an individual's efforts to resolve personal issues that can affect job performance and general well-being.

Policy

The EAP provides professional and confidential assistance, information and services to employees and their household members to address pressing issues or to bolster their professional or personal lives. Employees can use the EAP to enhance their own and their family's well-being by accessing resources related to work/home life balance, quality day care or summer camp for children, stress management, financial and retirement planning, health and wellness issues and many others. The EAP also provides many career development tools, such as supervisory resources, time management techniques, change management guidance, skills development information and other professional issues. Lastly, the EAP can help individuals address personal issues that may have an impact on their personal and professional lives. Topics that can be addressed through the EAP include: marital, troubled family members or children, alcohol or drug abuse, psychological or financial and legal issues. In these situations, the EAP can provide direct assistance or refer one to the appropriate resource to help find resolution. All counseling through the EAP is on a voluntary basis, even if recommended to the employee by management. Consultation or contact with the EAP in any way will not jeopardize an individual's job security, limit promotional opportunities within the university, or relieve the employee of his or her responsibility to meet acceptable job performance and attendance standards. Information regarding any employee using the services will be held in strictest confidence by the EAP counseling service. No information will be released regarding an individual without written authorization from that employee.

Carnegie Mellon has contracted with a private counseling and service organization to administer the confidential EAP services. The EAP provides access to professional counselors to assess problems and provide referrals for those individuals requiring specialized or long-term assistance in resolving issues. There is no cost for initial assessments and/or referrals; however, fees for the services of referral resources are the responsibility of the individual and/or his or her group health plan. The EAP will coordinate referrals, where possible, with the employee's existing health insurance coverage in order to minimize costs to the individual.

Procedures

SELF-REFERRAL

Employees can elect to use the EAP service at their own initiative and may contact the EAP directly. A counselor will work with the employee to assist in identifying the cause of the problem, resolving the problem, and, as appropriate, referring the employee to other treatment or counseling. Any assistance or referral provided by the EAP will remain confidential.

The EAP website also provides a 24-hour, seven-day a week source for information, solutions and practical tips for managing time, work, money, relationships, family issues, etc.

HOUSEHOLD MEMBER ASSISTANCE

Any member of an employee's household, including his or her registered Domestic Partner, may use the services of the EAP. Once contacted, a counselor will provide the necessary assessment over the telephone and, if necessary, will arrange for further counseling or other services. Again, initial assessments and referrals are provided to household members at no cost; however, fees for the services of referral resources are the responsibility of the household member and/or his or her group health plan.

TIME OFF FOR COUNSELING

Employees are expected to use the EAP on their own time. Any time off from work to attend a counseling session is treated the same as other absences due to personal illness, injury or medical appointments. Arrangements should be made with the employee's supervisor in advance to schedule time away from work or make up any time lost.

SUPERVISORY REFERRAL

Management referral to the EAP is based on:

1. A request by the employee for assistance with a personal issue; or
2. A pattern of decline in an employee's work performance or attendance; or
3. A particular on-the-job incident that indicates the possible presence of a personal issue.

An employee's supervisor may suggest an EAP referral when he/she detects a decline in an employee's on-the-job behavior or overall work performance. The EAP and Human Resources provide assistance to supervisors in recognizing and referring issues that may be appropriate for counseling services.

Supervisors may contact the EAP and receive objective advice on employee relations, performance issues, interpersonal work conflicts, etc. It is not the supervisor's job to attempt to diagnose an employee's personal issues. It is the supervisor's responsibility to correct poor job performance through the use of the university's Progressive Disciplinary Procedure. At the same time, all supervisors at the university are strongly encouraged to take full advantage of the EAP and make referrals whenever there is any indication of job performance difficulty.

Resources

EDUCATION AND TRAINING

Specialized training for faculty, supervisors, and upper-level administrators will be offered to help them recognize job performance issues which may be a result of personal problems or substance abuse. Other training and awareness seminars and workshops will be made available as necessary.

RELEASE OF INFORMATION

All counseling is conducted in strict confidence and no information from an individual's record will be provided to anyone without the individual's written consent.
